

Welcome to Jho-Low.com.

For the past several years, I have been subject to a series of allegations across the globe in relation to the operations of 1 Malaysia Development Berhad (“1MDB”), a strategic investment and development company wholly-owned by the Government of Malaysia. Many of the allegations have originated from blog posts, improper leaks from within Governmental agencies around the world, or unproven allegations filed in court, where I have never been afforded an opportunity to set the record straight.

I have been paraded in effigy through the streets of Kuala Lumpur, and photographs from my younger days plastered in tabloids across the globe. It has become clear that there is no platform where objective information can be presented regarding this issue—and no jurisdiction that hasn't been poisoned by gossip, innuendo, and unproven allegations.

This website is an effort to change that.

My goal is to provide a balanced view of the allegations and the truth behind these matters. Obviously, I have opinions regarding the rule of law, political corruption in Malaysia, and the fairness and justice of this process, and I will make those clear. But I will also provide court documents, excerpts from media reports, and other materials that at least attempt to restore balance to what has become a global media circus.

Let me be clear: I am innocent. With hindsight I may have done things differently, like any young person, but any mistakes I made do not amount to the sweepingly broad and destructive allegations being made against me. There are so many fundamental facts that those seeking to lay blame at my door find convenient to ignore. This website shall bring to light these facts and provide the true story that has been suppressed for so long.

I only ask that everyone — courts, prosecutors, and the general public — keep an open mind until all of the evidence comes to light.

Sincerely,
